

A black and white photograph of an archaeological site. In the center, a rectangular label with a black background and white text is placed on the ground. The text on the label reads "CPG-90", "CIERRE SUR", "CORTE 1", and "N. 1-2". To the right of the label, a vertical scale bar with alternating black and white segments is visible. At the bottom of the image, a horizontal scale bar with alternating black and white segments is also present. The background consists of a rough, uneven surface, likely soil or rock, with some small, light-colored objects scattered around.
